

Everything New

Music and lyrics by Daniel Nahmod

Bring it on, everything new, everything different, everything true.
I am ready, for my next thing to do
All I know it's gonna be everything new.

I'm through crying
I'm through waiting
I'm through hoping against all hope
I'm through longing for something gone
That'll never return.
Think I've finally learned.

So bring it on, everything new, everything different, everything true.
I am ready, for my next thing to do
All I know it's gonna be everything new.

I'm through grieving.
I'm through dreaming
That the life I had is ever comin' back
No more wishing on someone else's star
That'll never be mine
I think it's time...

Bring it on, everything new, everything different, everything true.
I am ready, for my next thing to do
All I know it's gonna be everything new.

I've survived many times before
Broken heart and slammed the door
I'll be all right, yes I will, once more
Just as I did back then
I'm gonna rise again.

Bring it on, everything new, everything different, everything true.
I am ready, for my next thing to do
All I know it's gonna be everything new.

Bring it on, everything new, everything different, everything true.
I am ready, for my next thing to do
All I know it's gonna be everything new.

I know it's gonna be everything new
